Hayden Hege

Hayden is the son of Jerry and Wendy Hege. His favorite team moment was back-to-back sectional championships along with all the meals with the team afterwards. Hayden's extra-curricular activities include show choir, tennis, and cornhole club. His future plans are to attend college and study Environmental Engineering. He would like to move out west to live and work around nature. To his teammates: "My advice to my teammates would be to play tennis as much as possible. It doesn't matter if the opponent is better or worse than you. Hitting as much as you can will make you a better player no matter who it's with." To his parents: "I want my parents to know that I am extremely thankful for them and the endless support they have given me to succeed!"

Aaron is the son of Chad and Amy Mahoney. His favorite team moment was winning sectionals his sophomore year. They had lost a nail bitter the previous year and to be able to storm the court that year and celebrate at Freddy's, was pretty special. Aaron's extra-curricular activities include tennis, golf, airmail club, and pep band. His future plans are to attend Purdue to study Civil Engineering. To his teammates: "Don't let bad mistakes affect your game. Tennis is not only won by your skills but also by your mental toughness. And most importantly have fun and beat Roncalli!" To his parents: "Thank you for all your support throughout middle school and high school! Driving me to practices and matches, bringing snacks, and showing up to every match are just a few things you've done for me during my tennis career. And Dad, thank you for taking the time to hit countless number of tennis balls in the offseason and even being my coach in 8th grade!"

Chase Rigler

Chase is the son of Jess and Stephanie Rigler. His favorite team moment was eating at Freddy's after winning the sectional championship his junior year. Chase's extra-curricular activities include the National Honor Society, choir, cornhole club, and Fellowship of Christian Athletes. His future plans are to study Political Science and History at Clemson University. To his teammates: "Although it may not seem like it at times, hard work always pays off so just keep practicing and good things will come. Trust Coach Hanan and the process he has to get this program to a high level and never take for granted how lucky you are to play tennis at FC." To his parents: "Thank you so much for always supporting my athletic journey ever since I was little. I am so grateful for every opportunity you have given me to play sports and the financial investment it has taken to get me where I wanted to be. Thanks for the rides to practices, the criticisms after matches, and the celebrations for my accomplishments. I love you."

Dalton is the son of Eric Scott and Carrie Burns. His favorite team moment was when they had breakfast at Waffle House. Everybody looked like a zombie because the sun hadn't risen yet and they had conditioned the previous day. Even though they were all tired, everybody was happy to be with each other and everybody had a smile on their face. Dalton's extra-curricular activities include show choir, theatre, speech, and debate team. His future plans are to attend Indiana University for Law studies or Political Science in hopes of becoming a Lawyer. To his teammates: "Don't take anything for granted. It comes to an end way too fast and I'm not ready for it to be over. Always push yourself and your teammates to do nothing but the absolute best. If the guys around me aren't motivated, I'm not either, so make sure that everyone knows you are on their side and that they have something to play for." To his parents: "I love you. I wouldn't be here without you. Mom: Thank you for always making sure I'm prepared and ready for everything, like packing my water some mornings when I forgot to or restringing my racket over the weekend. Dad: Thank you for always pushing me to be my best and making sure that I know you are supporting me. I couldn't do it without you guys, and you mean everything in the world to me."
