Devynn Bishop

Devynn is the daughter of Scott and Heather Bishop. Her favorite team moment was the white elephant gift exchange with the divers. Devynn's extra-curricular activities include club diving and being Class Vice President. Her future plans are to attend The University of Kentucky and continue her diving career as well as majoring in Aerospace Engineering. To her teammates: "One meet does not define you, just keep practicing and working hard and you will soar past your goals." To her parents: "I am infinitely thankful for all you do for me. Thank you for pushing me to do my best and telling me that there will always be room for improvement. And dad thanks for those superstitious breakfast wraps. I definitely would not be where I am today without you guys. I love you."

Anna is the daughter of Todd and Victoria Coney. When asked about her favorite team moment her response was, "There are so many to choose from whether going to state with the best relay team I could ask for, choking and drowning from laughing so hard, or playing gardenscapes with the gang, swim has given me so many memories surrounded by the most amazing people who truly have become my family. I love you guys more than I can express." Anna's extra-curricular activities include club swimming, and being a part of the official gardenscapes club. Her future plans are to attend either Purdue or IU to major in Hospitality and Tourism or Organizational Management. To her teammates: "Allow yourself to make time for yourself and to do things you enjoy. Don't spend all of your time stressing about things that do not matter in 5 years. #YOLO To her parents: "To my mom: I appreciate all you've done for me and my swimming career, even if I don't always express it. I love you so much. To my dad: You are the best dad I could ever ask for. You are beyond supportive and the most compassionate person I know. You always know how to cheer me up after a hard day. I love you guys and everything you do for me."

Abbie Cramer

Abbie is the daughter of Eric and April Cramer. Her favorite team moment was watching Amanda's facial expressions whenever they did ice baths. Abbie's extra-curricular activities include NHS and Student Ambassadors. Her future plans are to attend college for Forensic Science and become a Forensic Psychologist. To her teammates: "Your life shouldn't just consist of swim and school. Make sure to make time for yourself and other things you love." To her parents: "Thank you for all the time and money you spent on me in this sport. It not only improved my physical health but gave me friends and lifelong memories that I'll never forget. I am so grateful to be able to do this sport."

Amanda is the daughter of Robert and Sara Firestine. Her favorite team moment was sophomore year playing real-life Among Us at the team bonding fire. Amanda's future plans are to attend the University of Southern Indiana to study Nursing, once she gets her RN she plans to work part-time in the hospitals as a nurse and continue her studies to become a certified Nurse Midwife. To her teammates: "Don't let people who say or think you can't do something stand in your way, instead prove them wrong." To her parents: "Mom and Dad I want to thank you guys for being my biggest fans, helping me through tough times, and giving me the strength to do things that I don't always want to do. Without you, I don't think I could make it this far. Even though next year I may be farther away, I want you guys to know that I will never forget my number one fans back home in Indy. I also wanted to let my sister know that I will miss having you nearby to talk with and that I've appreciated all of your support throughout these four years, but I am excited to no longer share a bathroom with you next year. Anyways thank you for all the support, love and memories."

Kate Lotterer

Kate is the daughter of Andrew and Julie Lotterer. Her favorite team moment was when they got to do Coach Dalton's version of the "monster swim" for Halloween this year." Kate's extra-curricular activities include the school choir. Her future plans are to study Biology at either IUPUI or UIndy. To her teammates: "It's ok to not make the best time at every meet, learn from that and remember you'll swim it again, also enjoy the years while in high school they go by so fast. " To her parents: "Thank you for all the support I wouldn't be here if it wasn't for you. I love you both so much."

Katlynn is the daughter of Mike and Trina McWilliams. Her favorite team moment was snowball fights after practice in the school's side yard, wearing our swimsuits. Katlynn's extra-curricular activities include the National Honor Society. Her future plans are to attend Indiana University Bloomington where she will double major in Biology and Business with plans to attend medical school to pursue a career in medicine. To her teammates: "Cherish the little moments. Years from now, you won't remember the hard practices or the exhaustion you felt, but you will remember your dedication to the sport, your growth, and the friendships you made along the way. That is what makes this sport worthwhile. Enjoy it. " To her parents: "Mom, Dad, there is nothing I can say that fully expresses how much I appreciate everything you do for me. Ten years ago you drove me to my first swim tryout and from there my love for the sport grew. Sure there were ups and downs along the way, but you were there for every single one of those moments. You taught me the value of perseverance and determination. You guided me through the years and made me who I am. Every day I count my lucky stars that I was blessed with such wonderful parents that love me unconditionally. I love you both so very much, and once again, thank you.

Chloe Oden

Chloe is the daughter of Scott and Kristie Oden. When asked about her favorite team moment here is what she had to say: "Picking one team moment to be my favorite is far too difficult. I always enjoy themed practices like the monster swim, glow-in-the-dark practice, practice when we have breakfast after, and stations. But the best part of this sport has been being able to meet and become close friends with my teammates. We all have a special type of bond that comes with having shared painful experiences and shared triumphs. A win for one of us is a win for all of us." Chloe's extra-curricular activities include swimming for 8 years, being very involved in her church, and life groups, and being a preschool volunteer. She writes for the school newspaper, is a member of the National Honor Society, has a part-time job, and is an avid player of Gardenscapes. Her future plans are to attend either IU or Purdue. She is undecided on a major but is interested in doing something with writing. To her teammates: "Even though it's easy to get caught up in the intense swim season, don't let it completely dominate your mental state. You will swim so many races, don't get caught up in the few that you don't reach your expectations in. Allow yourself to actually have fun at meets and enjoy the moments that you have to cheer your team on and make good memories together. I spent way too much time during high school season worrying about my events and stressing myself out a lot more than I needed to, and I missed out on a lot of the fun that can be had at meets. Understand that you're not always going to do your best and that how you do at one meet does not define you as a swimmer." To her parents: "I could never thank you enough for all that you do. I couldn't be where I am today without your never faltering encouragement and dedication. Thank you so much for always being there and for doing all that you can to soften the blow of how intense and time-consuming the swim season is. You have never made me wonder whether or not you have got my back in all my ambitions. Thank you for teaching me what it means to persevere and work hard. I love you guys so much."

Sydney Schaney

Sydney is the daughter of Abby Schaney and Chris and Lauren Schaney. Her favorite team moment was freshman year when the girl's team dyed their hair blue. Sydney's extra-curricular activities include NHS and C-9. Her future plans are to attend the University of Southern Indiana for nursing. To her teammates: "Don't sweat the small stuff because it is all small stuff." To her parents: "I'm so thankful for the support you guys have given me and the opportunities you made sure I didn't miss."

Emily Simpson

Emily is the daughter of Heather Simpson. Her favorite team moment was freshman year doing Friday yoga with the team. Emily's future plans are to attend college and get a bachelor's degree in computer science. To her teammates: "Ask for forgiveness, not permission." To her parents: "I love you, and I appreciate your support and laughter throughout all the years."
